My Daddy Is A Soldier is a picture book aimed at the youngest members of the Army community whose small lives are often turned upside down when Daddy disappears on duty. It explains, in simple text and photographs, that Daddy will be 'going far away to work' but will, most importantly, return. The book is aimed at Foundation and Key Stage 1 children.

All profits will go to the Afghan Appeal Fund, a charity run by British Army wives and personnel, working to improve the plight of the children of Afghanistan.
